DEDICATION

We of the class of 1953 take great pleasure in dedicating our yearbook to a man all of us sincerely admire,

LORING B. PRIEST.

C. DANIEL LITTLE

Chieftain

We are proud that the many contributions of C. Daniel Little to our school life have brought him the title of chieftain, of which he is most worthy.

"WHO'S WHO" of the Junior Class

Shortess, Mathias, Heller

"WHO'S WHO" of the Sophomore Class

Left to Right:
Henry, Poukish, Vannucci

Now that our last year on campus is drawing near, some of us are feeling sorry we can't begin all over again.

CLASS OFFICERS

Class of '54

Class of '55

Full of energy and vitality, we've thoroughly hazed the Freshmen who came to fill in the ranks, and have gone on our way, rejoicing.

Second Row: Poukish, Correll.*

Class of '56

The strangeness of being newcomers on campus has worn off quickly among us, and members of our class have been participating in as many extra curricular activities as they can feasibly work into their schedules.

JOHN W. LONG
President

I have been slow in responding to your invitation to prepare greetings and a message for THE ARROW. This is not because of indifference or lack of appreciation. Essentially a "message" is an assurance of personal interest and an expression of goodwill. Having done this so many times it is becoming more difficult to vary the form of this greeting.

But more fundamental is the fact that my relations with the student body are more remote than formerly, my contacts largely through others. This is my loss which I feel keenly. My greatest satisfactions through the years have been my relations with the students, my feeling that at times at least I have been able to be of some help.

The real satisfaction I now have is to have seen you develop through four years of college life and effort and observe the feeling of kinship and solidarity which you have developed. I, naturally, have some satisfactions in having been permitted to help provide the buildings and create the environment and assemble a strong faculty and staff which have been valuable contributing factors in your achievements.

And now as you join the ranks of the alumni, my earnest wish is that the imprint which Excoming has stamped upon you may always mark you as follows of

"Abou Ben Adhem (may his tribe increase!)
Awoke one night . . . And saw, . . .
An angel writing in a book of gold:— . . .
And to the presence . . . he said, . . . 'What writest thou?'
The vision . . . answered, 'The names of those who love
The Lord.' 'And is mine one?' said Abou. . . 'Nay, not so,'
Replied the angel. Abou spoke more low, . . . and said,
'I pray thee then, Write me as one that loves his fellow-men!'"

These condensed words from Leigh Hunt I adopt as a suitable expression of my feeling and wishes for the Class of 1953.

Faithfully yours,

JOHN W. LONG,
President.

Through impartial discussions of current problems and their possible solutions, we learn more about International Relations. This was dealt with on a small scale by the Model United Nations at Cornell to which one of our number was a delegate, and which we saw "in process" during our week-end visit to United Nations.

After a shortened service of Evening Prayer under the spiritual leadership of Rev. Llewelyn O. Diplock and Rev. Robert C. Holmes of Christ Church, Williamsport, we air our many and often diverse views over coffee and what not, so thoughtfully prepared for us by Mrs. M. C. Donkle and Mrs. J. F. Rush.

We try to achieve a well-rounded program of recreation, education and child welfare; on Saturday mornings we hold craft groups for children, and at Christmas we go caroling for shut-ins. Folk dancing, singing, discussion groups, speakers, and skits combine with worship to fill our evenings.

A Cappella Choir

MR. WALTER G. McIVIR

Our campus group has as its aim the enjoyment of musical expression through teamwork. Composed of thirty five members, the choir is proud of its high academic standing among campus organizations. The group serves functional purposes in addition to its social and musical activities. It is one of the main means of promoting Lycoming College to the public, and it gives relief from some of the harder academic studies. Tours for 1953 have been planned tentatively to extend into the Scranton, Altoona, and Pittsburgh Areas, with tours occurring over week-ends. An extended post-commencement tour of six or seven days is on the planning desk of The Reverend Mr. Lykens, new assistant-to-the-president, who is taking an active interest in the choir's promotional capabilities.

Lycoming Singers

As a segment of the A Cappella Choir, we were formed for expediency in singing the many yearly concerts in the various high schools. This year the Singers have also been termed the "Chapel Choir," and under this name we have sung for chapel programs of a worship nature.

The Band

We—there are fifteen of us this year—appear at home basketball games as the Little German Band and in the spring we become an ensemble which is 'on call' for many a campus activity.

The friends we have made good and true
But whenever we sing we will make the halls
Ring with our love dear Lycoming for you."

Through the Year

With the opening of school, the freshmen were one sorry Some thought the world was coming to an end. The girls were required to do everything from dressing upside down to observing air raids from the boy jet fighters and were not allowed to talk to any of the equally bedraggled males who carried books and alarm clocks in wastepaper baskets.

As the week progressed there was much fun! Fun, the upper classmen called it, but the freshmen didn't have the same idea.

Oh! Classes were soon in full swing and the fast shaving sure did cut the tender skin, but we settled down to serious work, going to classes and even doing some studying. Yes, this is hard to believe, but we did study so that we could hurry over to the social in the Girl's Day Room after our delicious meal served by the waiters in the dining hall.

The tea table at the President's Reception, work in the publications office, and research in the library, are a few of the more serious things which balance. . . .

Just Thank You

A yearbook is a series of landmarks and roadsigns which grows into being not through the efforts of several, but rather through the co-operation and the concentrated, frequently monotonous, work of many.

And when it comes to expressing our appreciation for all that has been done on the 1953 ARROW to all those who have done it, we're suddenly as tongue-tied as if we were trying to speak a dialect of upper Mongolia.

We want to shout a great big thank you at the top of our lungs to simply everybody, but we mean it so very much it somehow turns out to be a whisper in a wee, tiny voice—a hesitant and stuttering insignificant voice—that stumbles over Thanks for the big things, and especially for the little ones.

LYCOMING COLLEGE

(Formerly WILLIAMSPORT-DICKINSON)

JOHN W. LONG, D.D., LL.D., President

Lycoming College, founded in 1812, is a co-educational liberal arts college, granting both the A.B. and B.S. degrees. The liberal arts program is basic to the professions of medicine, theology, teaching, law, dentistry, and is desirable in engineering, science, pharmacy, nursing, and veterinary medicine.

Five-year cooperative programs in engineering and forestry will be started in September, 1953. The plan calls for three years of liberal arts study at Lycoming combined with two years of engineering at Bucknell University or The Pennsylvania State College, or two years of forestry at Duke University. The student earns the A.B. degree from Lycoming and a professional degree from the cooperating institution.
